Planning Process

Delaware County Human Services collaborates with the internal and external stakeholders in the development of the Block Grant Plan and on an ongoing basis to ensure the needs of our community are being met in an equitable, fair, and inclusive manner. Human Services Administrators currently meet on a regular basis to discuss pertinent issues within the Department. Program and Fiscal leads for the categoricals within the Human Services Block Grant routinely meet throughout the year to discuss current year needs, utilization of retained earnings, and planning for the upcoming fiscal year.

The Human Services Block Grant Plan is distributed to the Mental Health/Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Advisory Board, Drug and Alcohol Planning Council, and Children and Youth Citizens Advisory Council prior to submission for feedback and comments. Furthermore, the plan and summary are posted on the Human Services Website and distributed to an array of providers, County partners, and stakeholders.

Throughout the year, Human Services leaders assess the community and needs of our residents to best strategize for continued programming.

Human Services Narrative

Delaware County Department of Human Services was established in 1976 under the Home Rule Charter as an umbrella department responsible for the administration and delivery of coordinated human services. The Department of Human Services is comprised of the following program offices Mental Health-including HealthChoices and Quality Improvement, Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities, Drug and Alcohol, Early Intervention, Administration-including fiscal, contracting, information technology, and information systems, Adult and Family Services-including Medical Assistance Transportation Program, Children and Youth Services, and Early Learning Resources Center – Region 15.

In conjunction with internal collaboration between the various categoricals within the Department, Human Services has developed partnerships with an array of County and Court Offices, including the County Office of Services for the Aging, Office of Housing and Community Development, District Attorney's Office, Public Defender's Office, Workforce Development, Adult Probation and Parole, Juvenile Probation, and Juvenile Detention Services.

The Human Services Block Grant has been paramount in implementing a cross-system approach to the County's most vulnerable citizens. By allowing flexibility with funding, Delaware County has enhanced our holistic approach to address the needs of our residents.

Human Services Block Grant – Looking Back

Delaware County Human Services has been a Block Grant County since its inception with Act 80 of 2012. Structured with a Human Services Model, Delaware County was in an optimal position to transition to a Block Grant County. Although there have been countless benefits to Delaware County with the Human Services Block Grant's ability to move funds, three categoricals are most prominent: Drug and Alcohol, Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities, and Homeless Services.

The flexibility of the funding has allowed our County to provide more comprehensive services to our residents. When the Block Grant was established, Delaware County frequently had substance use needs which exceeded the available funding, resulting, at times, in some residents being unable to access treatment. Not only has Human Services been able to maintain consistent substance use programming with the Block Grant, we have expanded our provider network, increased funded length of stays, and incorporated multiple recovery houses and Medication Assisted Treatment Programming in our funded services.

More recently, Delaware County has been able to provide services to the intellectual and developmental disability population due to the ability to transfer the monies to the categorical with the most pressing needs. With limited increases in allotted Medicaid Waiver slots and a steadily growing need, Delaware County would have struggled to provide services in this regard if not for the flexibility of the Human Services Block Grant.

Delaware County utilized the Human Services Development Fund to support an array of programming for residents close to or experiencing homelessness. The drastic cuts of this funding stream over several years limited the available resources to assist this population. Human Services has been able to continue programming as a result of the ability to move funding between categorical allocations.

In addition to the benefit of transferring funding between programs within the fiscal year, Delaware County Human Services has been able to create initiatives and meet future needs through the permissible retained earnings. Programs, such as homeless case management, mental health on-site crisis, rental assistance, and homeless shelters have benefited.

Accomplishments of Fiscal Year 2021/2022

Fiscal Year 2021/2022 began with our nation still in the midst of a pandemic, spotlight on racial disparities, increased focus on Criminal Justice Reform and drastically increasing human services' needs; the effect of all being significantly felt in Delaware County. The Delaware County Community was further impacted by Prospect Medical Holdings' announcement of a rapid closure of all mental health and substance abuse services in April 2022. Despite the created crisis, the situation allowed Delaware County to thoroughly examine the array of services and enhance our provider network. Furthermore, the experience solidified the resiliency of the County, and underscored the commitment of not only our County Government, but the providers and community at large. Delaware County Human Services continued the "Unpacking Systemic Racism Project" and formed a Racial Equity Plan Team as we believe any substantive and permanent change would need to begin with the Department's Leaders and include input for all staff. As reported last year, our Racial Equity Statement was officially adopted by our County Council on March 17, 2021:

The Delaware County Department of Human Services acknowledges and understands historical and ongoing systemic racism exists in our work environment.

Racialized practices and behaviors which result in disparities and inequities within our Department will not be allowed to continue and must change.

The Department's goal is to create an organizational culture of inclusion and equitable success where the unique voices of all are valued, thereby bringing demonstrated diversity and creativity to our workplace and services provided.
